

Web Resources for African American History:
Slavery and Antislavery Prepared by Lois E. Horton

Best of the History Websites links to many sites; lesson plans www.besthistorysites.net/american-history

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Libraries Documenting the American South, North American Slave Narratives doc.south.unc.edu/browse/collections

National Park Service
Discover History, Cultural Resources Programs Teaching With Historic Places lightning lessons, includes Iolani Palace lesson plan nps.gov/subjects/teachingwithhistoricplaces/index

Library of Congress
The African American Odyssey: A Quest for Full Citizenship Words and Deeds in American History, Frederick Douglass Papers memory.loc.gov

Public Broadcasting System, Africans in America includes resource bank pbs.org/wgbh/aia/home

University of Houston; Chicago Historical Society; Gilder Lehrman Institute for American History; Museum of Fine Arts, Houston; National Park Service; Project for the Active Teaching of American History
digitalhistory.uh.edu

University of Virginia; Harriet Beecher Stowe Center Uncle Tom's Cabin, American Culture, multimedia iath.virginia.edu/utc

Cornell University Library, "I will be heard!" Abolitionism in America rnc.library.cornell.edu/abolitionism

Ashbrook Center, Ashland University, Ohio Teaching American History 50 Core Documents by historical era, lectures, lesson plans teachingamericanhistory.org

Gilder Lehrman Institute for American History history by era, essays, lesson plans, documents, multimedia gilderlehrman.org